Subject: Expression of interest in cooperation in FS International Competence Enhancement programme (Online)

Dear Sir or Madam,

We hereby express our interest in cooperation and exchange with your institution in financial education and training for our mutual benefit.

Programme Introduction:

In order to enhance the professional competitiveness of students in the financial professional field, we successfully organized the International Competence Enhancement Programme (ICEP) consisting of professional competency-based courses and internship in international multilateral organization projects in Germany (August 11-24, 2019) with the participation of 10 students and 2 lecturers from your institution. As the second term of our cooperation, 24 students from your institution participated the online version of ICEP last year (August 03-14, 2020). The feedback was extremely positive. This year, we will also provide the online version of ICEP (August 02-13, 2021) for our third term of cooperation. The 2-weeks' curricula and internship will be implemented remotely using popular online-conference platform/facility.

Different from ordinary short-term projects, the ICEP relies on the advantages of the International Advisory Services Department of Frankfurt School of Finance & Management, which cooperates extensively with international multilateral organizations and development financial institutions including the World Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the European Investment Bank, and the International Financial Group on consultancy projects around the world.

This programme plans to organize students to experience project internship and professional courses. Students can not only deepen their academic and methodological expertise through the study of various training modules, but also expand their international vision and develop professional soft skills through and internship in real-case consultancy projects funded by international multilateral organizations.

We encourage undergraduate students to participate in the programme to strengthen their capacities of career development.

Yours sincerely
Frankfurt School of Finance & Management
